

West Africa OneStory Team in Tombouctou, Mali

Alyson Johnson

Click here for \(team mate\) Sara's blog!

What is West Africa OneStory?

[Find out more about
Mali, West Africa](#)

September 7, 2008

Hello friends,

I wanted to write you a note about the exciting news we have from this week. Since we arrived in our village we have struggled just to communicate anything much less the Good News. But, just this past week we have been able to start sharing boldly with our village mom. We had to make a trip into town this week from the village. And while we were there, I got pulled over by the cops, who are notoriously known for being mischievous and may I even say a little money hungry. In the end, the Father took care of us and it was a great witness to our mom. We were able to share with her like we've never been able to before. And then the next day, Jessica was able to share her life story with her as well. So, we know that the sprt is at work in her heart. Plus we've had much opposition trying to keep us out of the village. And we know where this opposition is coming from. So please be lifting up our village mom.

Plus, our supervisor is bringing some of our retired workers here next week to come and visit with people in our village. So, we know that this will be a great opportunity for the father to work in this life. Please ask that many hearts would be open to this message that they will bring and for many doors to be opened. They will be here the 13th though the 17th.

Things are going well here. Just hot and sandy! Thanks so much for your help in lifting these things up!

grace & peace & War Eagle!

Alyson

p.s. Just to celebrate the starting of a new SEC season!

Alyson Johnson
BP 166
Tombouctou, Mali
Tel: 292-1812